

We don't ask airline pilots to pay for fuel.

We don't ask doctors to pay for medicine or surgical equipment.

We don't ask firefighters (and other first responders) to pay for the safety equipment and materials that are necessary for them to perform their jobs.

So, why is it okay to ask teachers to pay for supplies, materials, and resources for their students and classrooms?

*Unique
Teaching
Resources*